

1971
TALON

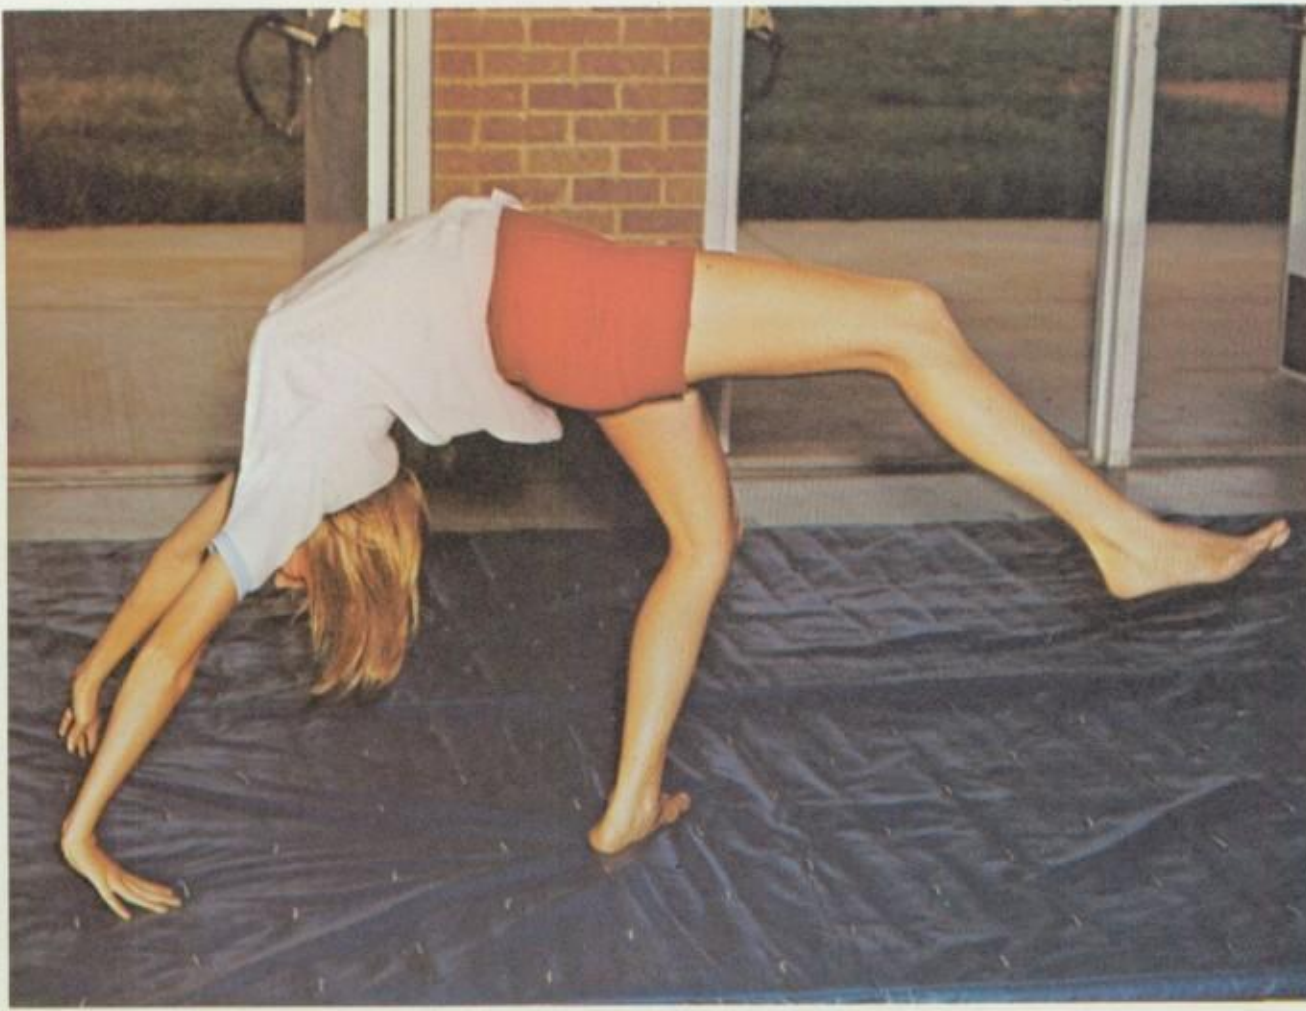

this is the beginning of a new day.

God has given us this day to use as we will.

we can waste it,

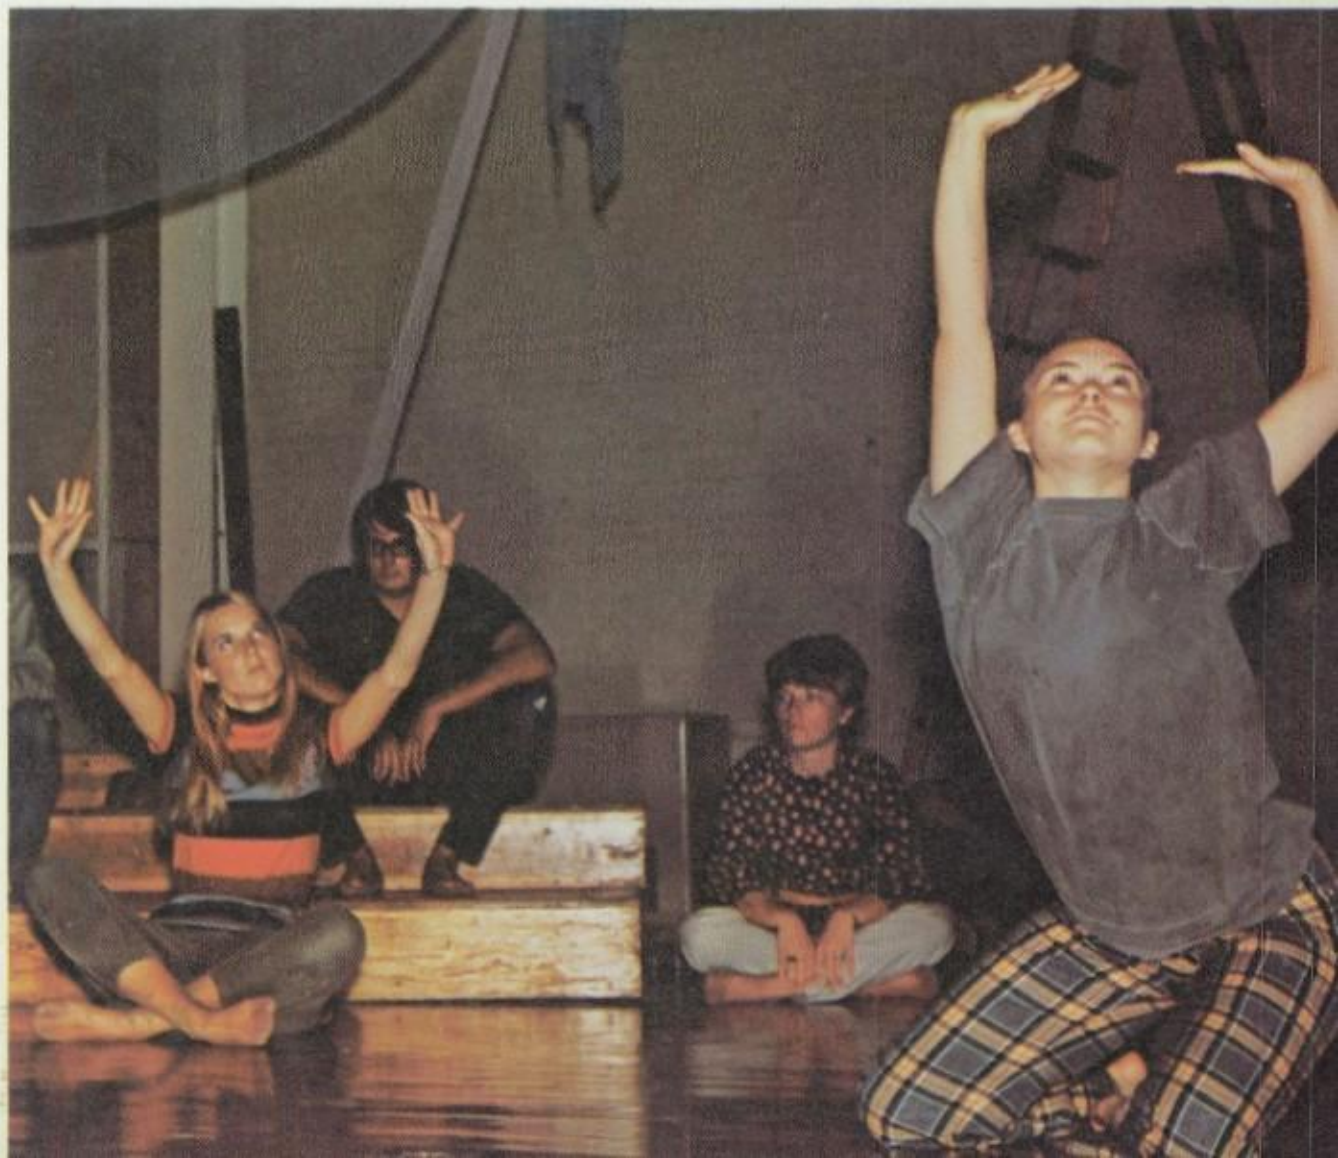

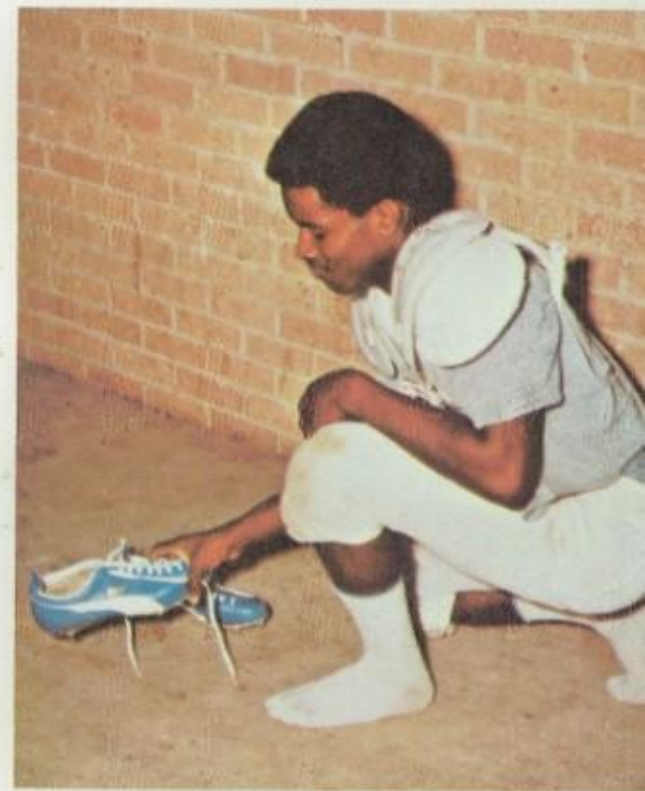

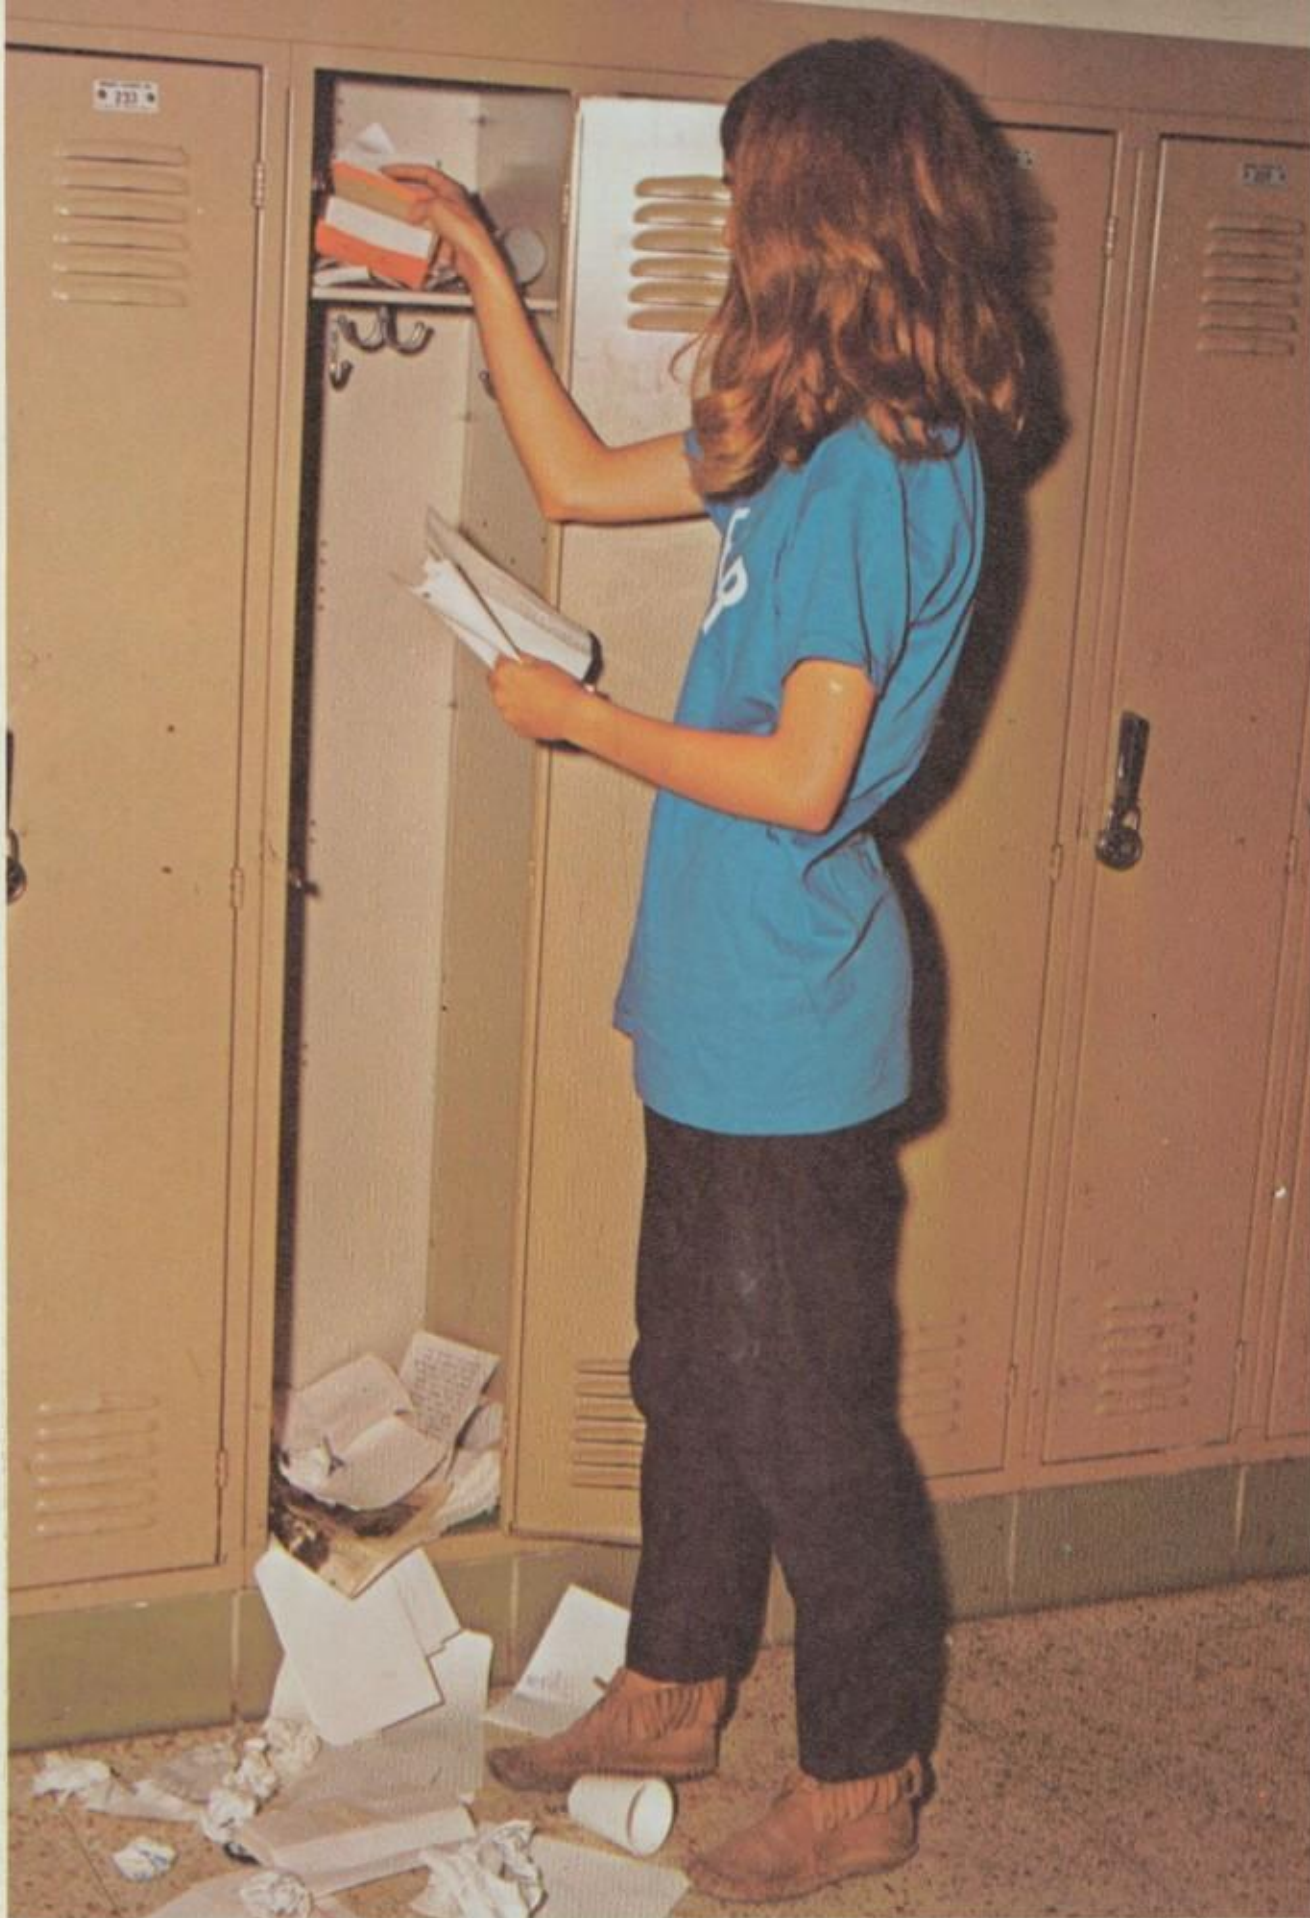

or use it for good,

but what we do today
is important,

because we are exchanging a day of our lives for it!

when tomorrow comes this day will be gone forever,
leaving in its place something we have traded for it.

let it be gain

and not loss;

good, and not evil;
success and not failure;

so that we shall not regret the price
we have paid for it.

Student Life

With the beginning of each new day, the active spirit of participation spread through the halls of Eisenhower promoting the constant change of each student's life. Clubs, sports and activities were all parts of the extracurricular life each Ike student led.

Each new day brings new and exciting activities to Eisenhower. This year's activities have been pursued with the wildest enthusiasm ever witnessed at Ike. From the vibrant first day to the nostalgic graduation ceremonies, IKE students felt a new awareness, a fresh spirit, unequalled in EHS history.

Activities

1970 Dawns With New Activities at Ike

Sophomore orientation, an almost impossible job, was attempted for the first time this year by Mr. Neptune and the presidents of all Ike's clubs and organizations. Sophomores, however, were only a small part of the 1,794 students enrolled at EHS the week before school.

After the sophomores got the swing of things, elections were held for seven Sophomore Senators, followed by elections for House and Senate officers. Then, with Student Congress in full swing, Ike was ready for the year to come.

Eisenhower spirit came through early this year when Pep Club took buses to Burkburnett only to find throngs of loyal Eagle fans already there to shout Ike's team on to its first victory. Drama's Spirit Assembly was equally well received and gave Student Congress the opportunity to distribute free EHS bumper stickers.

The closing of the first week of school found Ike students eagerly anticipating the year to come.

Snoopy Makes Appearance

Ike's "tradition" of new and imaginative projects was exemplified by the many assemblies presented this year. The first example of this was our unique and meaningful Spirit Assembly. Ike's Homecoming Assembly, which was set in the days of Camelot, was a fine show of EHS talent.

Perhaps the most outstanding assembly was the one presented at Christmas, featuring the one and only Charlie Brown, his best friend Snoopy, and all the rest of their lovable gang.

Climaxing Human Relations Week, the Human Relations Assembly emphasized many social problems and the misunderstandings they present.

Informative assemblies, dealing with topics such as drugs and the telephones of the future, were spaced periodically throughout the year.

Eisenhower had an entertainment-filled year thanks to the combined efforts of all those involved with these assemblies.

Plays

Long Leaves To Earn Masters

Eisenhower's Drama Department tried something uniquely different this year with the production of the Greek tragedy Antigone. Antigone, the first major Fine Arts production of the year, emphasized the struggle of the individual versus the state. The department supplemented the play with an assembly illustrating Greek theatre which was shown to all the English and history classes. Scenes from Sophocles' Oedipus Trilogy showed the unusual costumes, masks, and techniques used by the early Greeks.

Up the Down Staircase, the all-school play, was a tremendous success. Presenting the touching tragedies and hilarious triumphs of a young high school teacher, the play was immensely appealing to students as well as adults. Up the Down Staircase, Mrs. Long's last major production here at EHS, received a standing ovation at both of the two presentations, and was openly praised by those who attended.

Pride Establishes New Spirit at Ike

Pride was first emphasized at the very beginning of the year. Bumper stickers stating "PRIDE IS IKE'S TRADITION" were passed out at the Spirit Assembly. Pride was present at every pep rally and game throughout the entire year. The Car Smash held before the EHS-LHS game, and the car caravans to the games were well supported and carried out with much enthusiasm. All the activities were unified and spirit-filled, simply proving PRIDE IS IKE'S TRADITION.

Activities

Homecoming Great Event

Eisenhower's 1970 Homecoming, highlighted by a beautiful queen, a splendid assembly, a convincing win by a fine football team, a spectacular half-time show, and a tremendous dance, was perhaps the best this school has ever seen.

Lovely Carla Riley was crowned Eisenhower's Second All-School Queen by Steve Cofer, in an assembly narrated by Rhonda Little and Mike Ward.

Homecoming night the Eagles trounced Moore 21-0 in a fine display of Eagle Power! The half-time activities included a splendid show by the band, a superb performance by the ROTC Honor Guard, and a bouncy routine by the Pom-Pom girls.

The day's activities were concluded by a dance at the Hotel Lawtonian with music provided by the Halfway House. Homecoming 1970 proved to be a fine display of EHS talent, taste, power, and pride!

Student Life

Individuality Stressed in Extra-Curricular Activities

Eisenhower placed major emphasis on a well-rounded education. Sports, student government and extracurricular activities were all stressed at EHS to complement classroom learning. Extracurricular activities, including, everything from hayrides and tricycle races to Christmas caroling parties, played a large part in student entertainment and helped break the school year monotony.

Outstanding Students

Each new year brings new leaders to Eisenhower. It would be impossible to honor all of Ike's outstanding students, as each student is outstanding in his own way. However, each year Talon pays tribute to the students who have distinguished themselves through high scholastic ratings or devoted club work, or who have been elected to represent EHS as royalty. These students reflect true school spirit.

Carla Riley

All-School Queen 1970-71

Royalty

Carla Honored as All-School Queen

Genuine friendliness, courtesy, fiery spirit, and high intelligence are just a few of the worthy traits exemplified by Eisenhower's All-School Queen for 1970, Carla Riley.

During the year, she served as the President of Honor Society, Vice-President of Pep Club, a member of the Student Senate, and as a member of the City Activities Committee.

Carla, tears of joy streaming down her face, was crowned in the Homecoming Assembly presented by Ike's drama department. EHS was proud to make this one of Carla's happiest moments.

LOWER LEFT: As Vice-President of Pep Club, Carla takes care of some unfinished business.
LOWER RIGHT: Carla Riley and her accomplice, Tiena Waller, are caught in the act.

Cheerleading Tops Other Activities

Cheerleading was one of the main activities in which Janie Allen was involved during her three years at Eisenhower. Her senior year, she was Head Varsity Cheerleader, in Student Senate, Tri-Hi-Y, and the CAC. Janie's vibrant personality made her very deserving of the honor of EHS All-School Attendant.

Quiet spirit, a high intellect, a warm personality, and a sincere concern for Eisenhower made Becky Keiningham well worth the honor of All-School Attendant. She was a cheerleader for three years, and was actively involved in French Club, National Honor Society, Tri-Hi-Y, and the House of Representatives.

Attendants Are Active Participants

Being Pep Club President took most of the time of Susan Rhoads, an EHS All-School Attendant. She was a cheerleader for two years, and was also active in Student Senate, National Honor Society, Spanish Club, Tri-Hi-Y, and CAC. Active participation in these clubs and organizations made Susan well qualified for the role of EHS All-School attendant.

Mikel Jennings, another EHS All-School Attendant, was in Tri-Hi-Y, Pep Club, Spanish Club, CAC, Yearbook, House of Representatives, Senate,

Student Congress Cabinet, and was the Senior Senator. She worked hard to make the student government more effective and worthwhile. EHS was well represented with Mikel as one of its All-School Attendants.

Outstanding Students

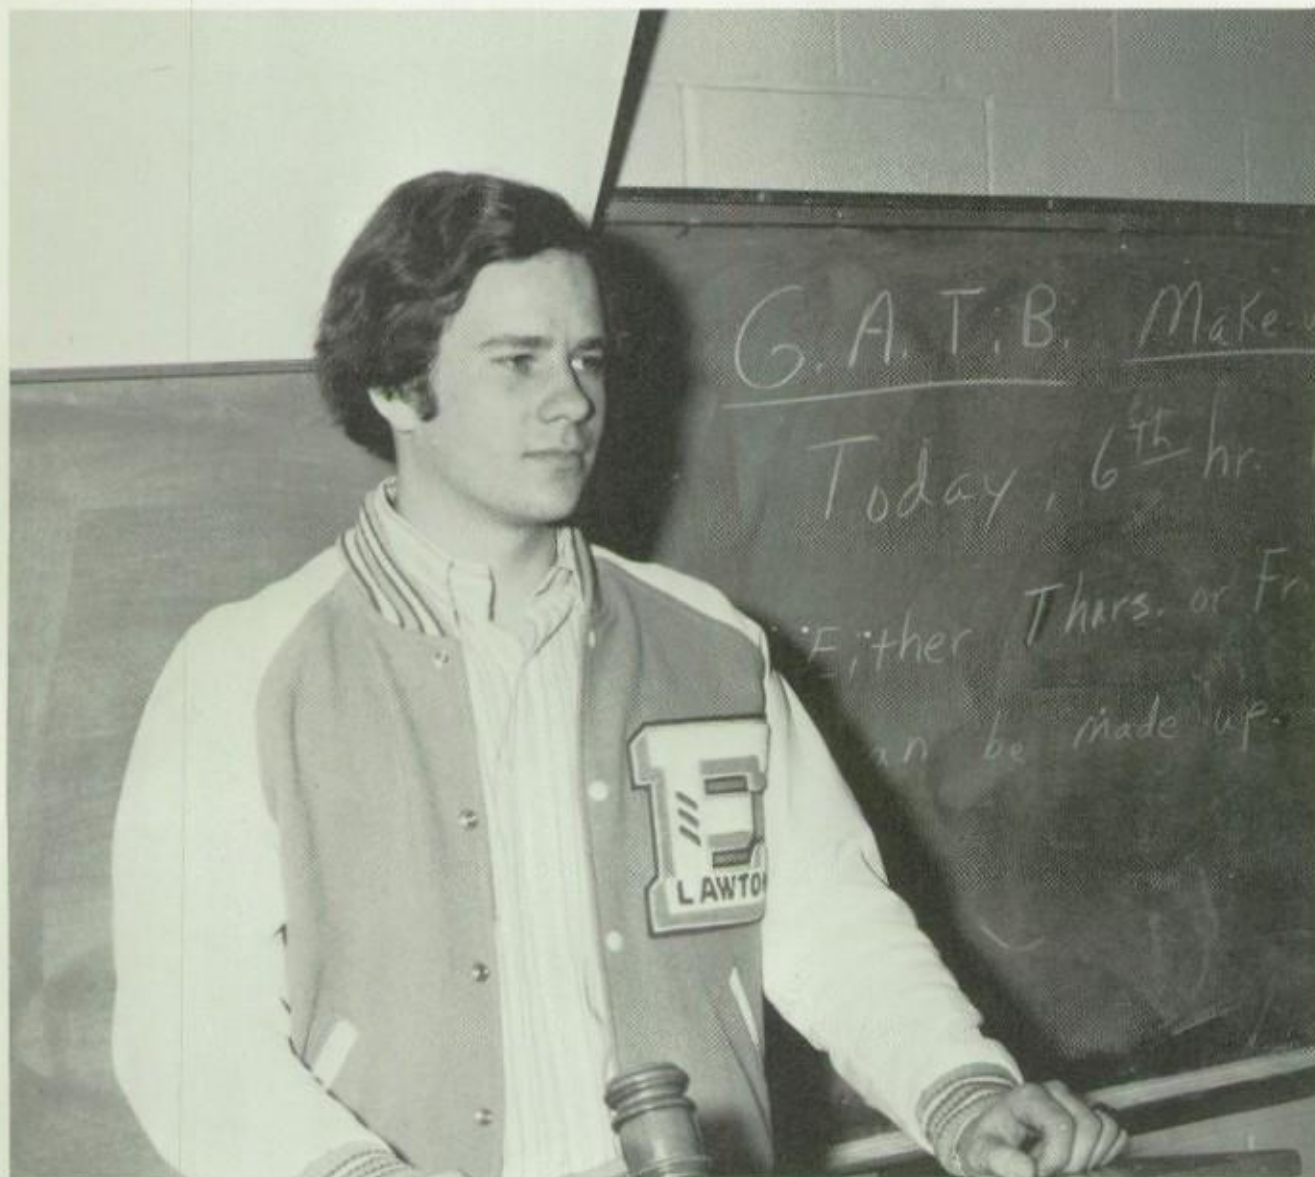

Sincerity a Real Asset to Outstanding Members

Dedicated and responsible members form the nucleus of all Eisenhower's clubs. Eisenhower is proud of these students, so each year the Yearbook staff recognized one member, elected by his club, who has contributed a great deal to the success of their organization. These members receive the title of Outstanding Member.

LOWER RIGHT: Cadet Major EDDIE TROPE, ROTC Battalion Adjutant, was in charge of all personnel actions and setting up the ROTC Battalion for drill and ceremonies, as well as the monthly ROTC newsletter. LOWER LEFT: Besides the usual responsibility of presiding over meetings, TOMMY KLEIN, E-Club President, instilled pride in his members. They made Christmas Basket and helped with the Sportsmanship Committee.

UPPER LEFT: GLENDA LYNCH, Pep Club Publicity Chairman, was responsible for making locker signs, painting signs for the hall, selling pennants, passing out spirit boosters to football players, and helping to keep the Pep Club organized. LOWER: ROD WATSON, President of Student Congress, presided at all Joint Student Congress meetings, led the opening ceremonies of all assemblies, and planned all special projects, such as Community Day. PAT NEWCOMB, Secretary of the House of Representatives, also served as Chairman of the Social Affairs Committee. All social events were under her supervision.

Ambitious Members Shoulder Responsibilities

UPPER LEFT: OIO owes a great deal to JUNE LAMBERT. She worked very hard at getting the new club established. UPPER RIGHT: DeANN JESTER served as Secretary of Thespians her junior year and as President her senior year. Drama is her life, as is easily seen in the many duties performed by her in Thespians. LOWER RIGHT: JIMMY SMITH, Key Club President, organized the project of cleaning up the parking lot. He also encouraged all members of this club to attend Kiwanis luncheon meetings.

UPPER LEFT: Serving as President of Hi-Art Club was only one of many duties accomplished by LAURA BASKIN. She was instrumental in encouraging members to work on various projects and be active in the club.

LOWER: ANNE SMITH, President of Tri-Hi-Y, tried to keep order at meetings, wrote numerous announcements, tried to find worthwhile service projects, and figured out many suitable social activities. Besides being a very active member in his club, PHIL BRESSMAN, Hi-Y Club, also served his club by attending all Youth and Government meetings and serving as attorney in Legislature.

Outstanding Students

Outstanding Members Must Be Dependable

UPPER RIGHT: Conducting and obtaining speakers for meetings, and recruiting members occupied much of the time of LESLIE MURPHY, President of Life Science Club. RANDY ADAMS, a junior member of FSA, has supplied films for FSA and contributed to the general meetings. LOWER: TALON Editor, KENDALL LEDFORD put forth much extra time and effort to get the yearbook out on time. He also put up with the wildest of all yearbook staffs in performing his duties.

UPPER LEFT: A very efficient band was led to all local and statewide contests by LEVI PRESLEY, President. He also played lead trombone and guitar in the organization. LOWER RIGHT: EUDOXIA ROBINSON, Library Club Historian, contributed much to the workings of the club as well as being a very efficient worker in the library. She was responsible for keeping track of and recording every activity the club undertook.

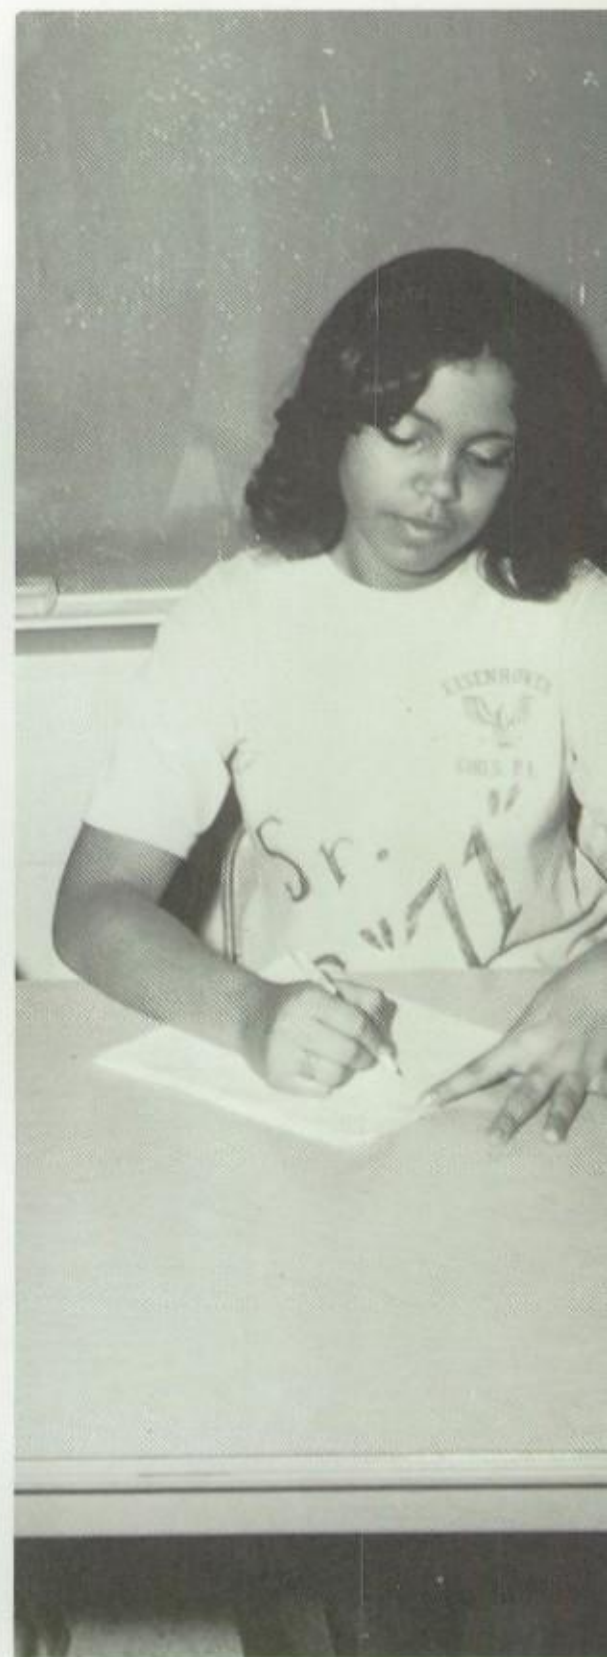

LOWER LEFT: GENE SANDERS, Spanish Club President, presided at all meetings, and was a member of all committees within the club. He took charge of organizing such social functions as the Spanish Dinner and the Caroling Party.

Active Clubs Require Dedication

UPPER LEFT: LIZ McQUAIDE served as President of FBLA. Her optimism and enthusiasm while working made Liz worthy of Outstanding Member of FBLA. UPPER RIGHT: ANITA WATSON, a member of the Afro-American Club, was responsible for drafting the constitution of the club. She spent much time in this process to produce an interesting and worthwhile club. LOWER RIGHT: SUSAN MORGAN, Advertisement Manager for the Patriot, was responsible for selling an average of two hundred column inches of advertising for the paper monthly.

UPPER LEFT: DORIS REED, Outstanding Member of Madrigal Choir, performed many duties while in this club, such as serving as the piano accompanist. She brought honor to the club when she was named to the All-State Choir. LOWER: CARLA RILEY, served as Vice-President of National Honor Society her junior year and as President her senior year. She has shown patience and initiative in her work in NHS.

Outstanding Students

Enthusiastic Members Are Vital To Clubs

UPPER RIGHT: Being involved in all committee activities and always providing the spark of initiative needed for committee action made JACK NEWMAN worthy of outstanding DECA student.

LOWER LEFT: CHARLES HANZA performed many club duties as Vice-President of FFA his junior year and as President his senior year, and attended many stock shows and FFA functions.

LOWER RIGHT: Many useful individual contributions were made by CAROLYN WILLIAMS, French Club's Outstanding Member. She spent many hours on favors for parties, gifts for rest home patients, and decorations for special French Club occasions.

UPPER LEFT: PATTI ATEN, Future Homemakers of America President, attended the State FHA Rally and the Sub-District meeting. She participated in the sign contest for the

Fashion Show, made ditty bags, and placed second in a doll dressing contest for the Salvation Army. UPPER RIGHT: BEA MIZELL, President of German Club, had many duties, including arranging for caroling and Fasching parties, conducting meetings, and managing the German Club booth at the Carnival.

Students Receive Honors

Organizations

Organizations were the heart of Ike. Regardless of a student's taste, he could find a club at EHS that suited his interest. Large and small, these clubs represented the various aspects of student life. Organizations not only provided a break from the monotony of school, they also helped develop each member's sense of responsibility and pride.

Congress Aids Community

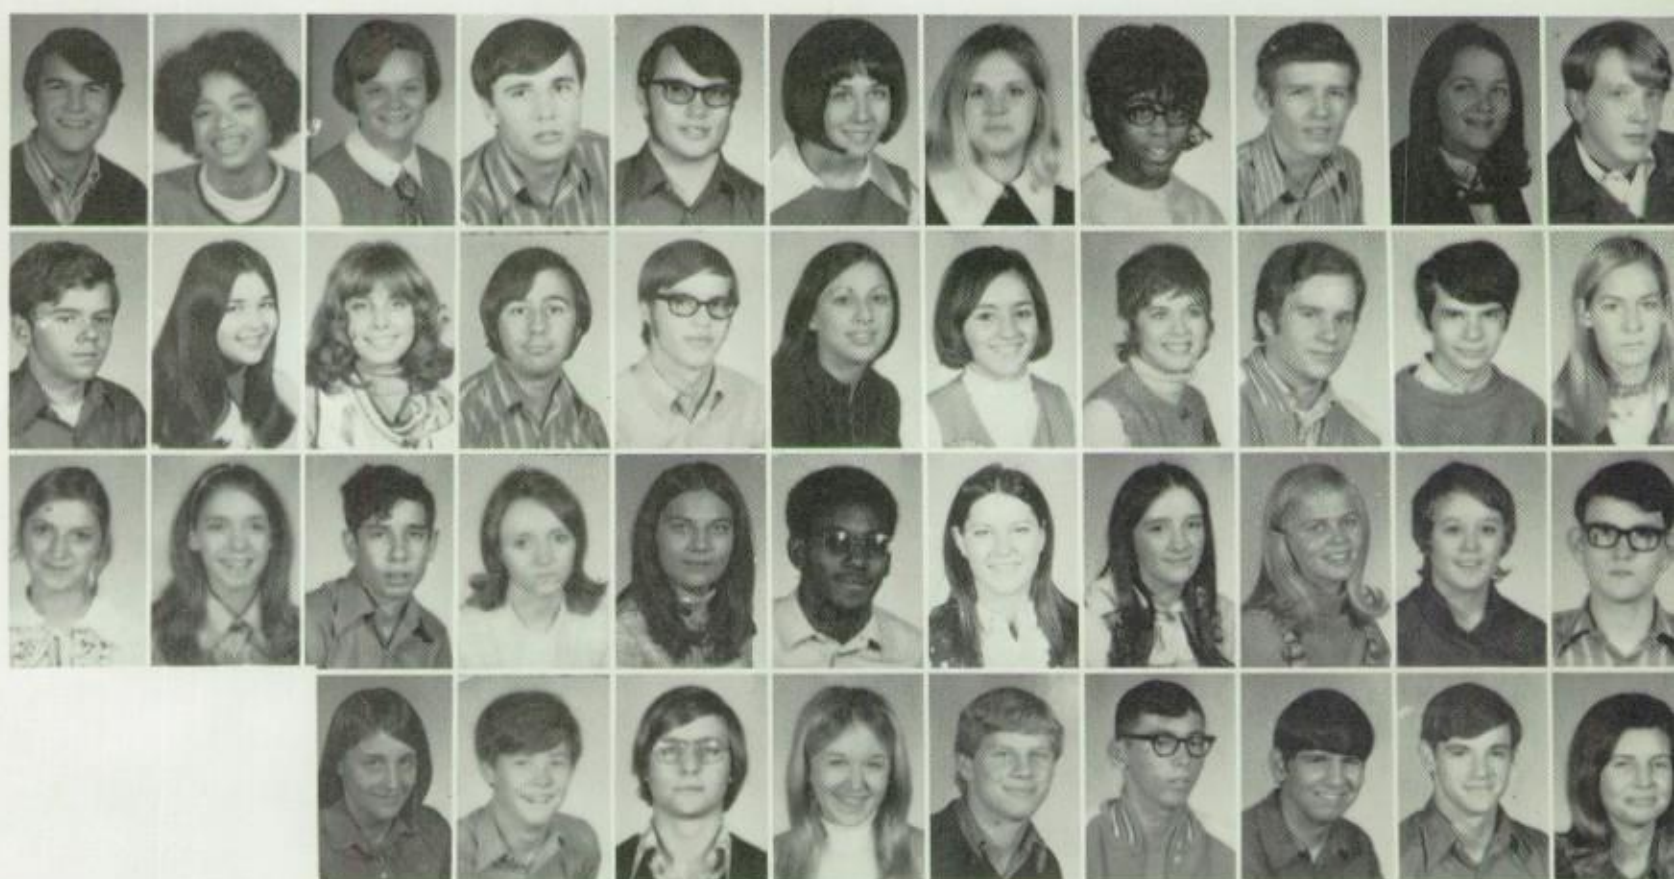

Student government was more prominent at Eisenhower this year than ever before. It sponsored many community projects, such as a toy drive for the Headstart Program; it also participated in the Peace Corps Partnership Program.

Individual participation was encouraged last year by the introduction of rap sessions, a suggestion box, and several open house meetings.

The fine example Ike's Student Congress set for Eisenhower students and the community proved it to be a most important part of Eisenhower.

Interschool Cooperation Urged

Better relations between schools is the main purpose of the City Activities Council. They instigated a Student Exchange Program during the year to increase student understanding in Lawton's three high schools. Ike CAC members spent a day attending classes at LHS and MacArthur, and LHS and MacArthur members also visited Ike. CAC also promoted good sportsmanship during the LHS-EHS football and basketball games.

Patriot

Staff Attends O.I.P.A. Conference

Long hours, tedious re-writing, and ingenious work constituted each issue of the Patriot. Staff members reported on every major event at Ike, and continued the Patriot's reputation as one of the finest high school newspapers in Oklahoma. Between publications, the Patriot staff managed to attend the Fall and Spring Conferences of the Oklahoma Inter-scholastic Press Association in Norman, Oklahoma.

1971 Compiled by Wild Staff

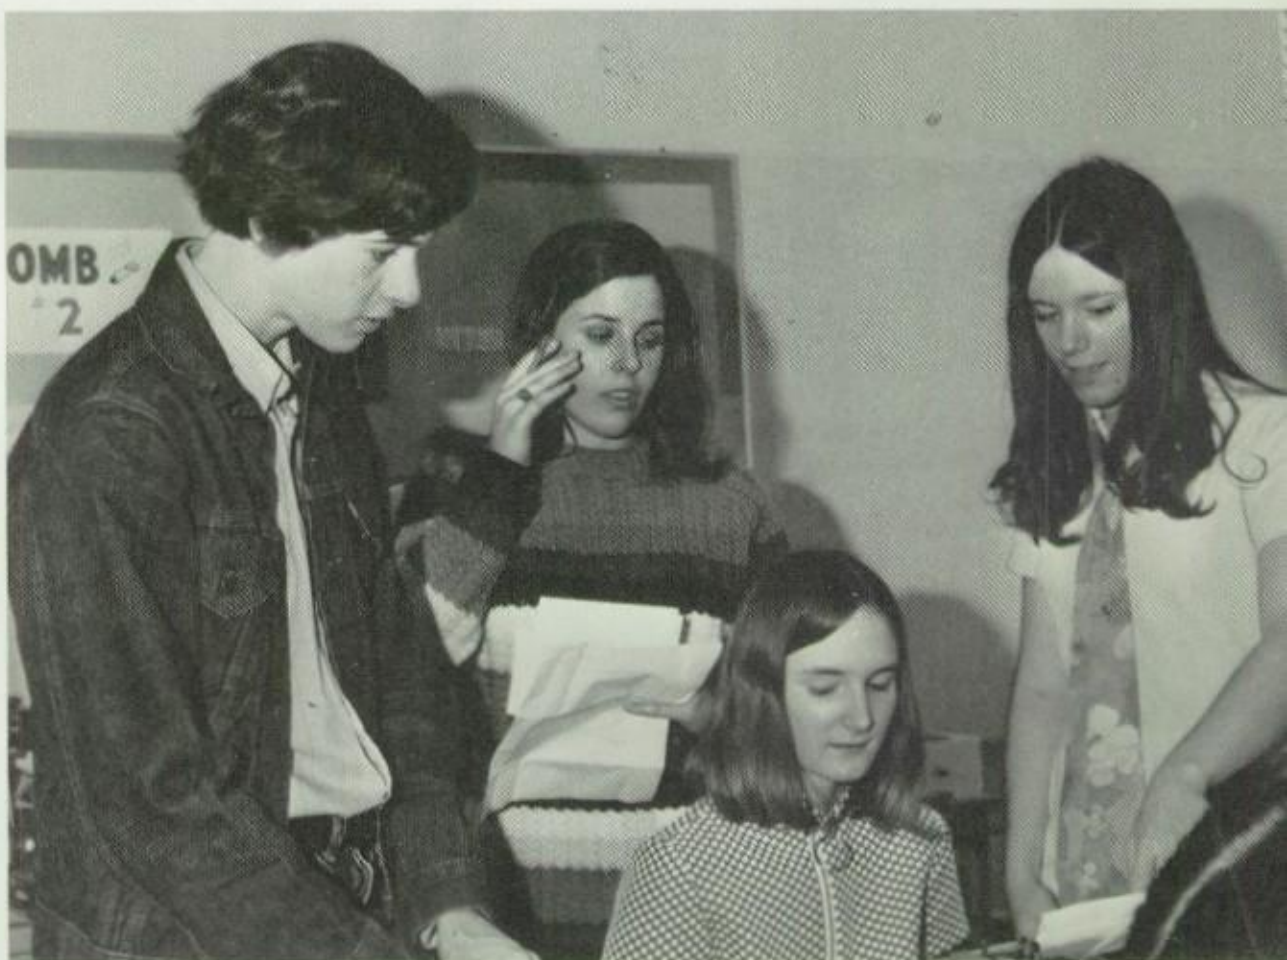

Supervised and controlled (?) by the unforgettable EDIE Moon, Ike's yearbook staff tackled and tamed what the staff thinks is the best Talon yet! After seven months of censoring, cussin', and general disagreement, the Talon staff turned in their final copy February 22.

Not inhibited by the normal classroom structure, Talon staffers were able to express themselves in a number of other ways too. Each staff member made numerous and somewhat noisy contributions to all the fifth hours in the vicinity of the Talon room. But, between trips to Wayne's and fast escapes from the establishment, they managed to compile the wild year of '71 into one of the best Talons in Ike's history.

Thespians

Actors Aid Headstart

Providing weekly entertainment for underprivileged children and sponsoring Eisenhower's major production, Antigone, were only two of the ways Thespians represented EHS in the Lawton community. Each week, Thespians performed a short skit for the children in Lawton's Headstart Program.

Thespians' Christmas party was highlighted by a mask contest. After the party, the homemade masks were given to the Headstart Children. Two initiation parties brought many new members into Ike's drama club. Initiates could be seen tromping through the halls in weird glasses and Thespian bowties during the Hell Weeks prior to the initiations.

Drama played an important part in EHS activities, and each Thespian gained valuable experience through Eisenhower's creative and talented dramatics club.

NFL

Debating Keeps Club Busy

NFL members make an art out of speaking. These debaters, lecturers, and orators put their abilities to work at contests such as Student Congress contests and the tournaments in Del City, Tulsa, and Chickasha. Expectant members must research and work many hours just to be initiated. Debating and contests kept this club lively and on the go the year round.

ROTC

Drill Team Received High Ratings

Eisenhower's ROTC gained the respect of all Oklahoma this year with their consistent high ratings at drill meets. The Drill Team attended meets at Wichita Falls, Ft. Worth, Guthrie, and Fayetteville, Arkansas.

The biggest event for ROTC members was the Military Ball held on February 26 in the National Guard Armory. The Ball was highlighted by the election of the Honorary Lieutenant Colonel and the awards presentation. Special guests at the Ball were Mayor Gilley, General Weatherill, Hugh Bish, and Richard Neptune.

Band

Band Marches On

Every morning at 7:30 sharp Eisenhower's neighbors could hear our band marching out to their practice field. After several awakenings by the band's sweet musical strains, many people were probably wondering, "Must those kids practice every morning?" The answer was an emphatic "Yes!"

Properly prepared, the band gave some spectacular performances for the halftimes at EHS football games, and received two awards at the District Contest at Altus. Not wishing to limit itself only to Eisenhower's games and contests, Ike's band also played in half-time ceremonies during the Cameron State College-Southwestern game.

Ike's band wound up this eventful year with its spring trip to Enid.

New Director Brings New Ideas

Mr. Mohr shocked everyone when he announced his resignation, and the Vocal Music Department was ready to close down completely. Things were soon remedied, however, with the arrival of Howard Geis, the new director. Knowing "Uncle Charlie" could never be replaced, Mr. Geis came on strong and developed his own music department. Still, some things just never change. Mike Wade continued chewing the forbidden gum, Suzie Pitt had to have every soprano solo, and Gene Sanders was always chasing some girl. It took Mr. Geis less than a week to learn all the tricks of the trade: daily lectures, occasional desk poundings, and those exasperated looks. It was rumored that he also acquired the beginnings of the required ulcer!

In spite of everything, Vocal Music did manage to accomplish quite a few things this year. Several programs were given for various organizations in Lawton, and the Madrigal Choir performed for the student body in a school assembly. The assembly, dedicated to Burt Bacharach and Hal David, was extremely well received, and proved to the students that the Vocal Music Department does do something besides go to contests!

National Honor Society NHS Expands Activities

National Honor Society was more active than ever before with frequent meetings, larger attendance, and fascinating speakers. Their annual convention was held in Stillwater November 4 and 5. Carla Riley, Kendall Ledford, Donnie Thornton, and Christine Hall attended it both days, hopefully to learn a little bit about the purpose of NHS and its functions as a national organization.

Even the Book Nook gained more interest this year with the addition of posters. As usual, the Book Nook Committee managed to sneak in a few really GOOD books, but Miss Minnich managed to sneak them right out again!

Art Contributions Add Atmosphere to Ike

Hi-Art Club, under the fine leadership of President Laura Baskin, worked hard and contributed much to Eisenhower. Perhaps their most noticeable contributions were the brightly decorated Christmas windows and the imaginative class bulletin boards.

Hi-Art's Art Show and Sale commanded major interest here at Ike. The sale's profit was used to finance their field trip to several Oklahoma City museums.

Spirit Nucleus Is in Pep Club

Pep Club is the nucleus of Eisenhower's spirit, and Ike's spirit this year was tremendous. Pep rallies have never been as thunderous. Pep Club took buses to four out-of-town games this year, and the enthusiasm and energy displayed by the girls was unbelievable. Still, as in all organizations that contain two or more girls, there was a little hostility within the club this year. In fact, competition between the seniors and the juniors practically resulted in open battle! But that great Ike spirit united everyone when game time rolled around.

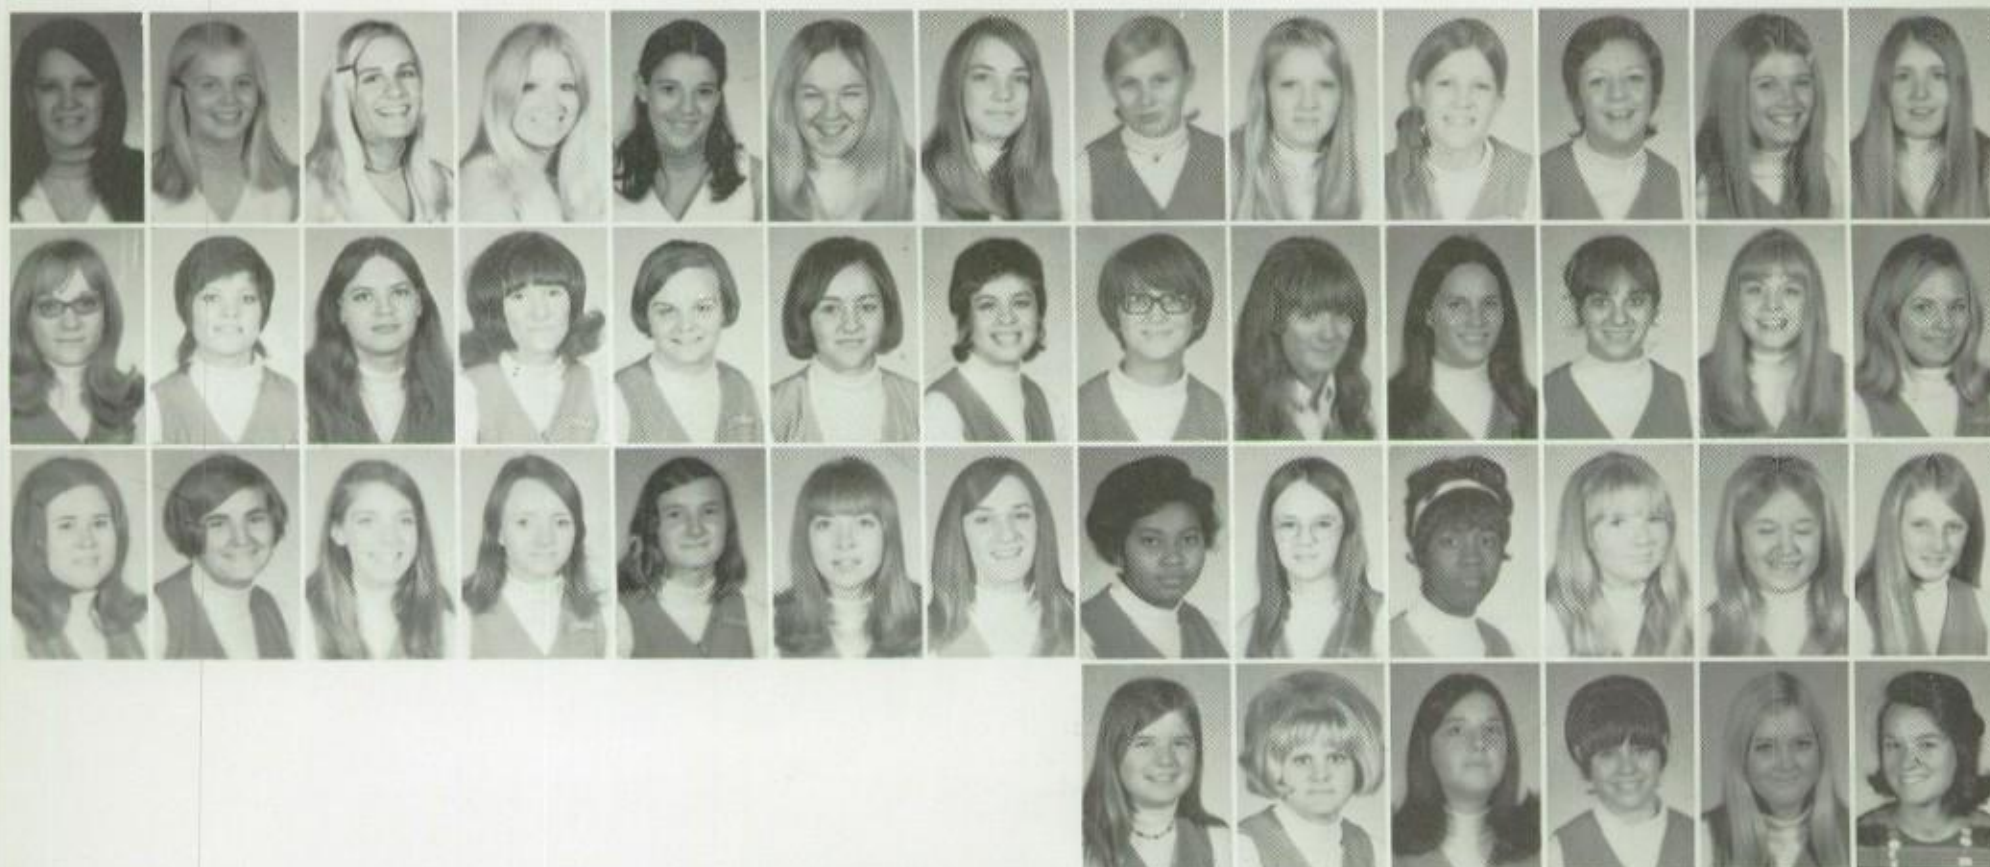

However, belonging to Pep Club wasn't just attending sports events. A glance in the gym after school would always find the girls dutifully painting signs and making locker decorations. The annual sign competition between the classes caused long hours of tedious work. The seniors won, but it took an almost super-human effort to outdo the imaginative juniors and sophomores.

Most of all, Pep Club pampered and backed our boys through a winning season with the fresh new spirit they unleashed at EHS.

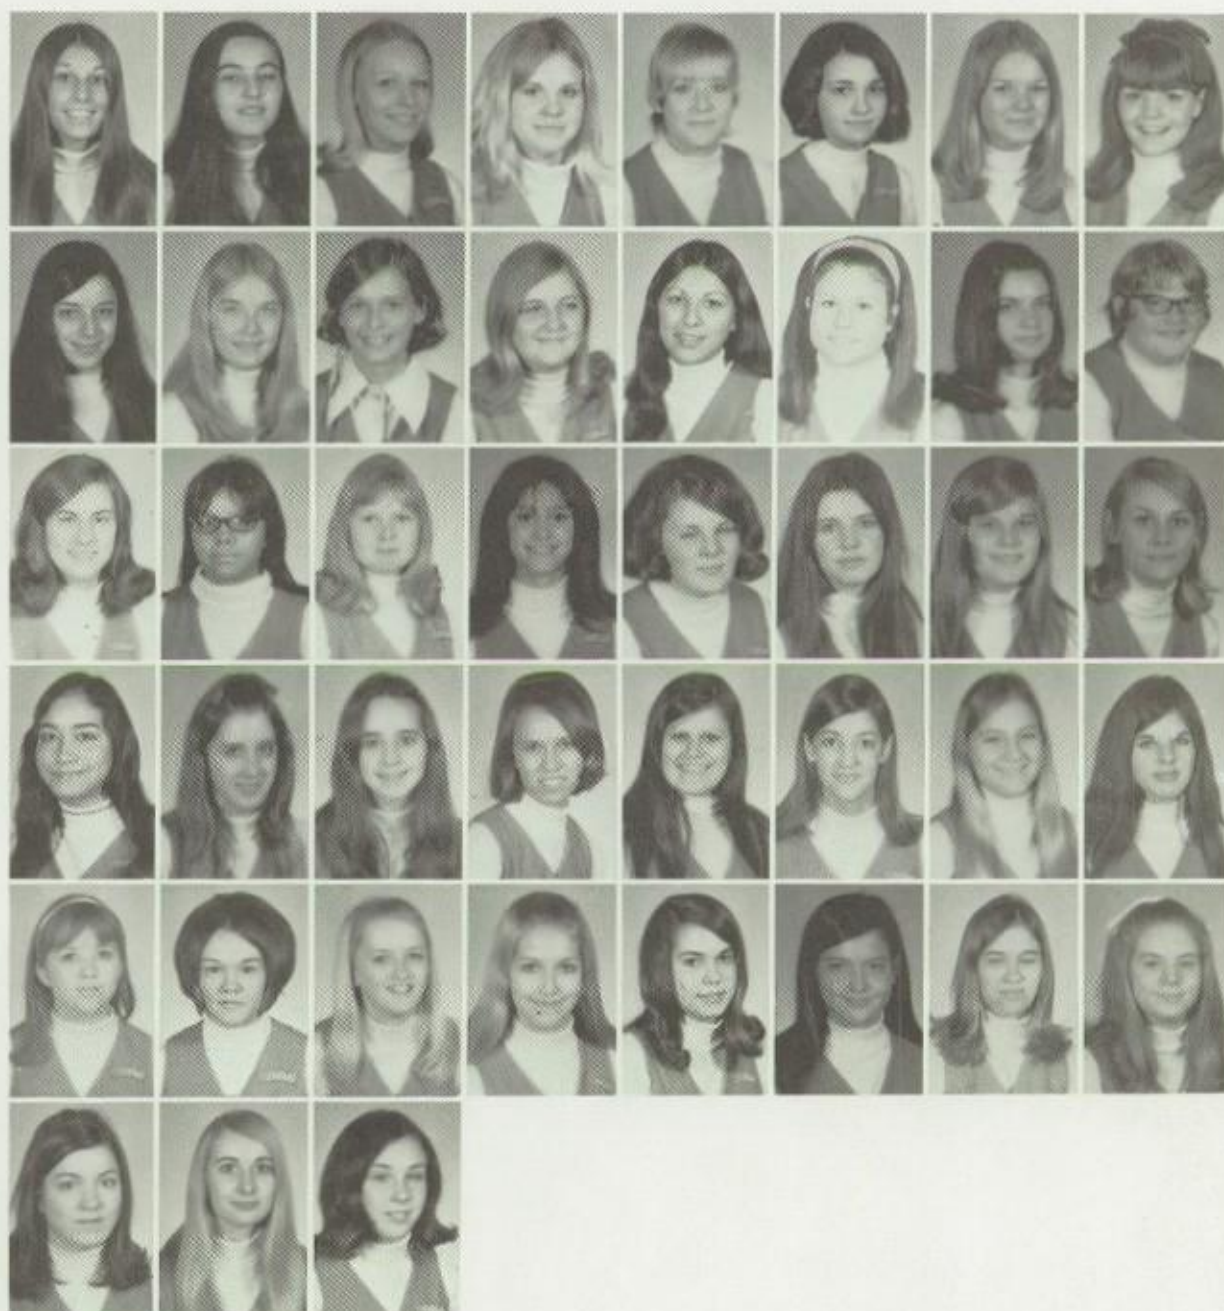

Cheerleading took a new turn this year with the addition of three male cheerleaders. Backed by Pep Club, they gave a proud showing at Eisenhower's games this year. After attending the cheerleading camp at Southern Methodist University, where they won first place five times and the Coca-Cola Award, Ike's cheerleaders were ready for a winning season. They also received a trophy and several ribbons for their outstanding cheerleading at Norman's state clinic last fall.

Eisenhower's spirit, illustrated by the exceptional job done by these exuberant students, was something of which every EHS student could be proud.

Pom Pom

Girls Shine At Halftime

Eisenhower's new spirit was exemplified by thirty-seven glamorous girls. The new Pom Pom organization was formed to replace the former Drill Team. Each member is a prospective cheerleader, and many of the Pom Pom girls led cheers at the Junior Varsity football games.

Besides practicing cheering, the girls also performed dance routines at the halftimes of EHS football games. Never before had so much attention been directed toward halftime activities. The only ones displeased by this leggy addition were the concessions people, who suffered a definite loss due to the ogling males' failure to leave the stands for cokes and popcorn.

FHA Girls Are Active In Many Service Projects

The Future Homemakers had a most impressive list of accomplishments this year. They made doll clothes for the Salvation Army, gave a Thanksgiving basket, went caroling in several nursing homes at Easter, and wound the year up with their annual fashion show. EHS was very proud of these talented girls and their services to the community!

Life Science

Trips Highlight Year

Life Science members had a busy and informative year, highlighted by a trip to Oklahoma University's Medical Center in May for Science Day. Other trips included visits to a fish hatchery, Kelsey's Veterinarian Clinic, and the Oklahoma City Zoo and Planetarium.

Life Science meetings featured many local doctors as guests. Collections were gathered during the year for the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation.

Members Attend State Convention

Future Business Leaders of America distinguished itself this year as one of the most active clubs at Eisenhower. Among other things, they had a Halloween bake sale, sold EHS football antenna toppers, and had a pot luck supper. In March several members attended the FBLA State Convention in Tulsa. Although the representatives didn't have too much to report about the meetings they attended, they did mention that the dance held the last night was really great!

Future Farmers of America

Donkeys "Play" Ball

One of the biggest events at EHS this year was the Donkey Basketball Game sponsored by the Future Farmers of America. Faculty fought FFA members in a torturous game of "basketball" while riding donkeys.

FFA members also attended a stock show in Tulsa during September, and another at Ft. Worth, Texas in February. Another big event for Future Farmers was the initiation of new members in December. Dinner was served in the EHS cafeteria, and Mr. Neptune and Melvin Bicket were guest speakers.

French Club

Mardi Gras!

French Club's annual Mardi Gras was the piece d'resistance for members this year. In a room decorated to resemble a small French cafe, members dined on fried chicken and enjoyed the performances of some of their talented fellow members. Everyone wore costumes, and prizes were awarded for the best, worst, and most original outfit.

Christmas caroling at local nursing homes also made a big hit with French Club members. (Especially when it was followed by a pizza party at Bianco's!) Other French Club activities included gathering food for a needy family's Thanksgiving Basket, and a French Bingo Party.

Spanish Club

Pinãtas Come to Ike

Spanish Club had a very busy and profitable year kicked off by a coke mixer in September to elect the club officers. Later in the year, members traveled out to Eagle Park for food, fun and games. Major Lopaz, an allied officer stationed at Fort Sill, and his family were guests for this wild excursion.

Christmas found Spanish Club selling Mexican pinatas. They generously donated part of their earnings for the Peace Corps School Program.

German Club

Club Eats And Eats

German Club had numerous parties and entertaining outings this year including everything from a simple picnic and coke party to a Fasching Party and a tasty German Dinner. After their annual Christmas Caroling Party, members went to Yates' German restaurant where they ate and exchanged silly gifts.

Library Club

Club Publishes Newsletter

Although one of the small clubs at Eisenhower, Library Club distinguished itself as one of the most active. Members attended District OSLA meetings at Chickasha and Comanche, and the State OSLA meeting at Oklahoma University in Norman. Library Club also sent a newsletter representing Ike's Library Club to other Oklahoma high schools.

In the spring, Library Club became twice as busy with at least two meetings every month. April was highlighted by the annual awards presentation and dinner. One of the most interesting meetings was held in May when members brought their original works to the meeting for a reading. Library Club wound the year up shortly after that with an end-of-school picnic.

Key Club

Hayride Sparks Exciting Year

Starting the year with many sales, Key Club earned money for many adventurous activities, including a hayride in November. Student Directories, Halloween candy, and Optimist Club Christmas trees were a few of the things with which members practiced their salesmanship. Key Club wound up this profitable year by selling cokes at the EHS-LHS ball games.

E-Club Owens Is Speaker

Establishing the Sportsmanship Committee was one of E-Club's most important contributions to EHS. Members provided cokes, towels, and all necessary equipment to visiting basketball teams.

Heisman Trophy winner Steve Owens was the guest speaker at E-Club's annual banquet in April. As always, the banquet proved to be a huge success. Members concluded their eventful year with a hayride in May.

Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y

YMCA Sponsors Government Activities

Youth and Government Meetings played a larger part in Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y this year than ever before. Members attended meetings at the YMCA every Thursday and held many discussions on current legislation in Oklahoma. The clubs also attended Pre-Legislature in Norman in January, and Legislature in Oklahoma City in April.

For relaxation, the two clubs held a joint coke party on the patio in September. Tri-Hi-Y also took a hayride to Eagle Park for a weiner-roast in November and Hi-Y held a fashion show at Edwards Men's Wear in the spring.

New Clubs Formed

Two new clubs were formed at Eisenhower this year with an emphasis on culture and racial understanding. The Afro-American Club was organized for those with an interest in the history of the Afro-American, and OIO was formed for those relating with the American Indian. Both new clubs attracted many members.

Sports

Team sports at Eisenhower stimulated the active spirit and participation so vital for a successful school year. Every sport from football to tennis was backed by staunch fans determined to meet each season victoriously. In addition to participation, every Eagle strived for good sportsmanship throughout the year and achieved it with flying colors in both victory and defeat.

Season Showed Promise

The Eisenhower Eagles of 1970, got their season off with some decisive victories, but Eagle town was plagued with injuries. Even though Ike won its first four in a row, injuries took their toll. Opening the season with Burkburnett was a barn-burner. Coach Ron Polston's crew came from behind to pull it out by a score of 14-9. During the game, senior guard Greg Smith broke his ankle and had to be replaced by Bruce Ross.

The Eagles won their next three with victories over Ardmore 21-7, Oklahoma City Classen 15-6, and Putman City West 19-3. Then Ike had its first taste of sorrow. Altus handed them a small but crucial 10-0 defeat. The Altus game hurt Ike in more ways than one. The team lost three boys with knee injuries for the season: senior split-end James Cooper, senior tight-end Tommy Klein, and junior defensive-end Mike King.

Ike then traveled to Norman and suffered a heartbreaking loss of 28-19. Ike bounced back to play a mud-strick-ened game and beat Del City 6-0. This game saw the return of Greg Smith. Even though it was muddy, our running backs, Steve Cofer, Nolan Franklin, Johnny Hunter, and Henry Williams still managed to dominate the running game.

At homecoming, Ike trampled Moore 21-0. This made the Eagles 2-1 in conference play, but Duncan came to town ready to play. The Eagles fought hard but came out on the bottom, losing 42-28.

Varsity Football

But Injuries Plague Team

Shawnee was the Eagles next foe, and the Wolves had a strong team. Ike drew first blood, but the Eagles were overpowered. Quarterback Steve Cofer took to the air, hitting split-end Mike McLemore, tight-end Glen Bynum, and wingback Herman Collie, but it just wasn't enough. Shawnee won 14-7. Ike played Lawton High their final game of the season. The Wolverines won 48-8.

Although Ike's team was crippled by injuries, they came through with a 6-5 record. Never losing that powerful EHS spirit, the Eagles proved PRIDE IS IKE'S TRADITION.

Sophomores Struck

Eisenhower High's sophomores showed good prospects for seasons to come. The Falcons, coached by J. W. Loudermilk and Hartwell Meneffee, struck up four big wins to only two losses.

First on their agenda was Lawton High. Sophomores battled to the end, but couldn't quite make it. LHS won 44-0. Burkburnett, stunned by the sophomores' enthusiastic power, fell to the Falcons 26-12. Ego up high, the Falcons let Altus slip by and win by one point, 21-20.

Paul Butler and David Graybill were a couple of the defensive standouts in the victory over Putnam City West, 20-13. One of the high scoring games of the season was the Duncan game. Falcons halted the Demons 48-36.

Burkburnett brought another feather to the Falcons' cap. Clint Smith caught two touchdown passes thrown by Leo Holmes, enabling the Falcons to soar by, 25-6. Some other standouts in the sophomores' season are: Edward Lee, Mike Smith, Gary Woodson, and Steve Biby.

The Junior Varsity, composed of sophomores and juniors, had a disappointing season this year. The Falcons' record showed three consecutive losses. The Wichita Falls' Rider game was a battle of the defenses. Rider nipped the Falcons 7-0. Altus was another heartbreaker. Tigers sneaked by 12-8. The final let down was the Ardmore vs Falcon game. Ardmore won, 20-12.

Even though Falcons had a tough season, they showed good prospects for attaining Eisenhower's dynamic Eagle Power.

Eagles Face Hard Season

In his fifth year at the controls, Coach Bob Pollan guided Ike's basketball team through a tough season against many of the leading teams in the state. Although they never really put it together on the scoreboard, the Eagles played each game with the strength and determination of true sportsmen and managed to break even for the season.

Principal starters for the 1970-71 Eagles were forwards, Mike Wade and Butch Stovall; guards, Mike McLemore and Blake Kephart; and center, BoBo Green. The players, along with a talented and eager bench, provided a constant threat to their Boomer Conference foes. Fighting down to the wire, the Eagles managed to nab fourth place in the Conference, spoiling the title hopes of Duncan and Moore along the way.

Hard work and determination helped the Eagles turn last year's losing season into a winning one in 1971.

Winning Season Earned

The Eisenhower Junior Varsity had an outstanding season this year. The Falcon's season started out with a gruelling battle between Ike and O.C. Northeast. The Falcons lost 72-52.

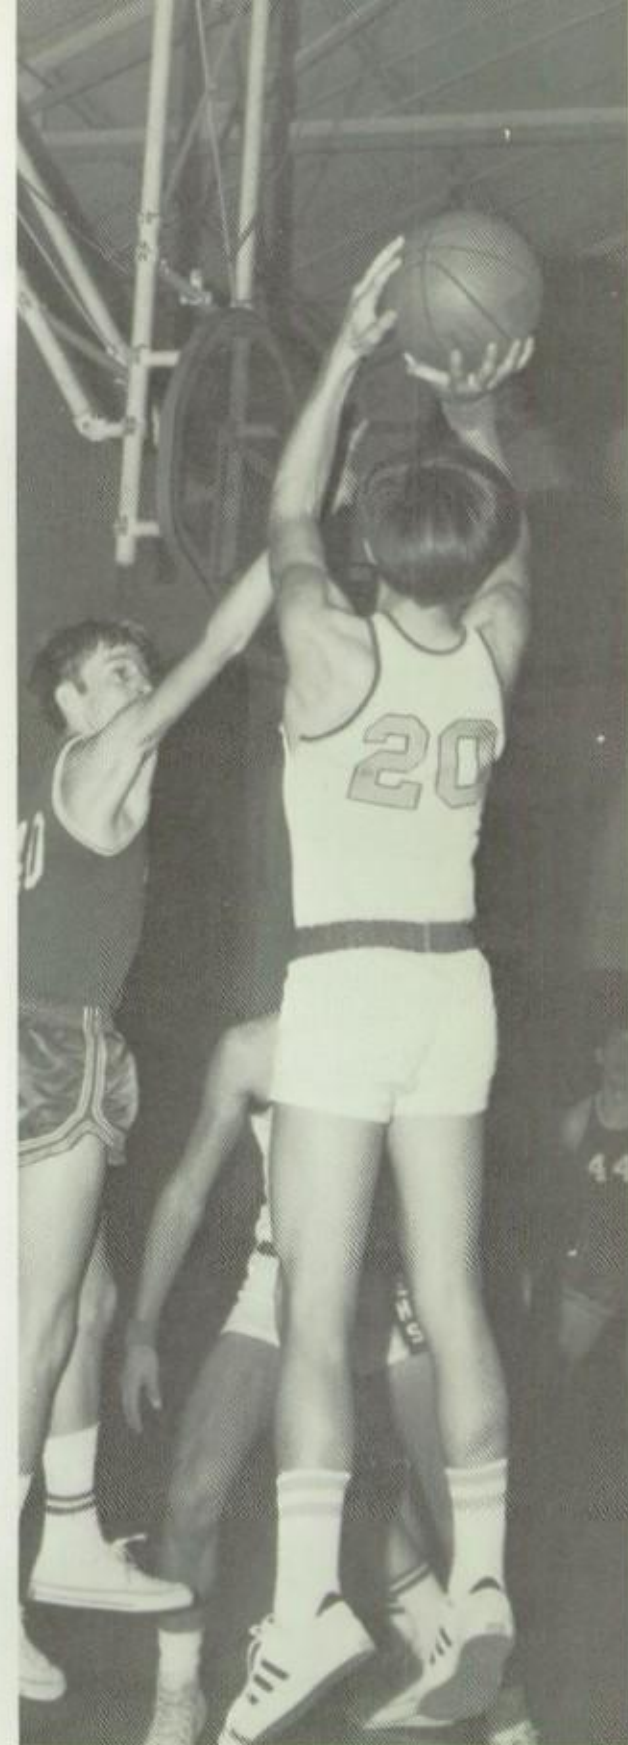

Next, Ike played our cross-town rival, Lawton High. The Falcons soared over the Red Raiders, 58-40. Eisenhower then travelled to Norman and came back with a disappointing 69-49 loss.

A 48-45 victory over Altus was the beginning of a five-game winning streak for the Falcons in which Putnam City West, Moore, Altus, and Duncan fell prey to Ike. Norman brought an end to the Falcon's good luck with a 64-43 win.

The Falcons had a hard time getting to their feet again, winning only two out of their last five games. However, the players gained valuable experience and will be a great asset to next year's varsity team.

Baseball

Baseballers Seek to Improve Record

Ike's baseball team of 1971 should prove to be a good one.

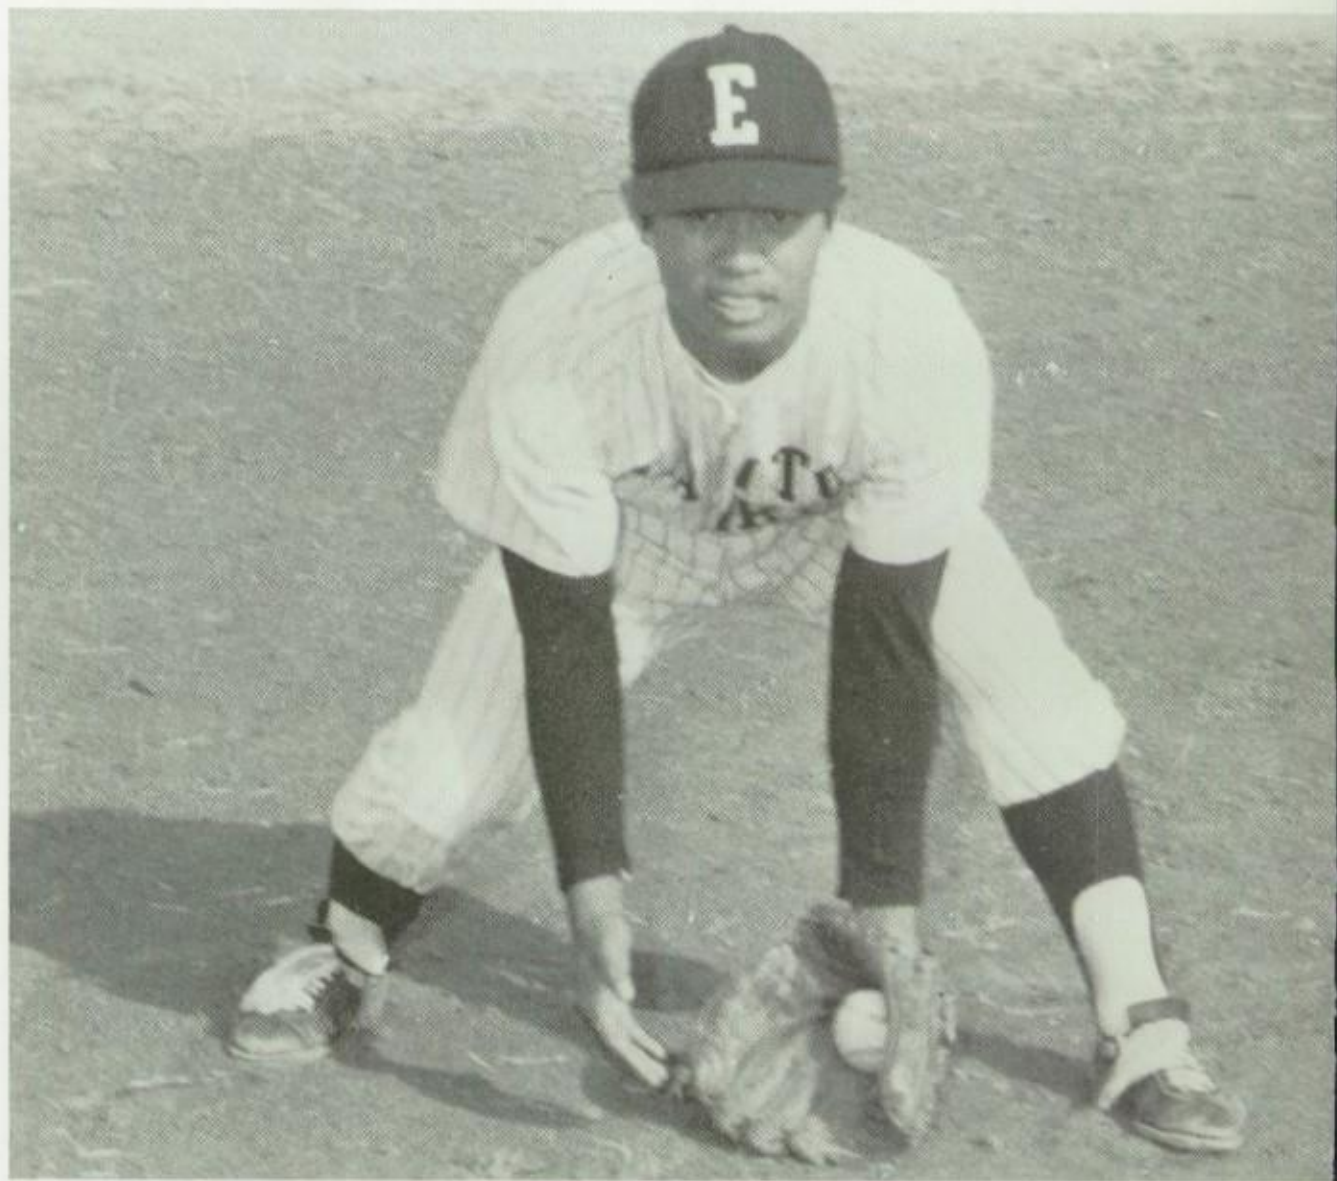

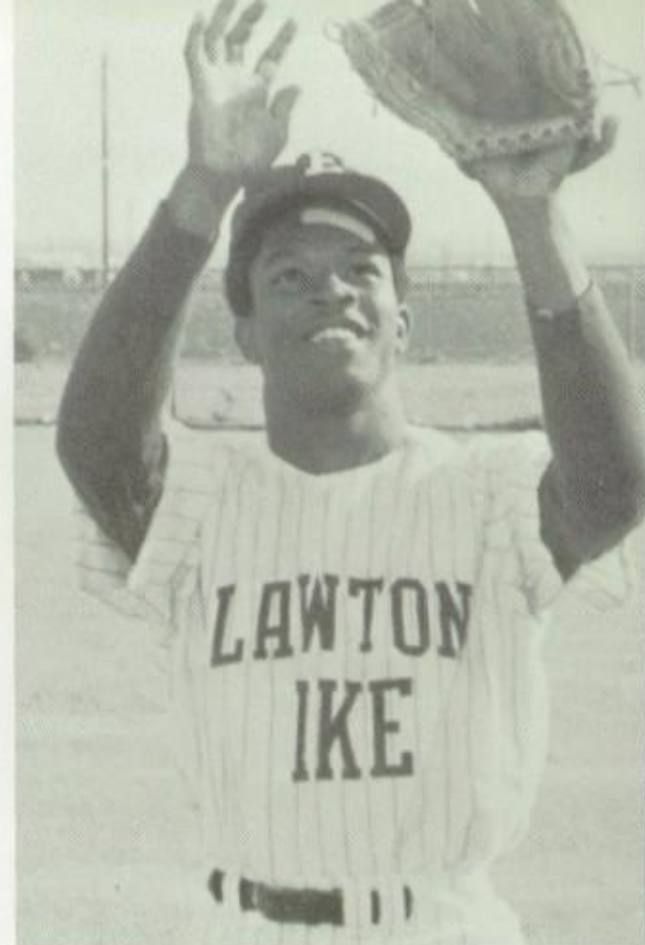

With several returning starters, and some promising newcomers, the Eagles will probably surprise fans and foes alike. Mound duties will be shared by Jimmy Tibbs, Gary Allen, Danny Marley, Robert Gordon and Mike McLe-more.

Paul Whiting, Robert Igarta and James Riley head up a host of infield candidates.

Outfield duties will be handled by Steve Cofer, Herman Collie, Allan Munson, and John Ridgway. Billy Pollard and Leo Holmes will share the catching position.

If this year's baseball team is an example of future teams, Ike can look forward to many winning seasons.

Training Makes the Difference

After placing ninth in last year's State meet, Ike's track team took a deep breath and began the extensive training necessary for this year's stiff competition. Three outstanding veterans, Johnny Hunter, James Cooper, and Henry Williams, returned this season to lead the way in the 440 relay. Field events were also well represented by Tuck Pittman, and Nolan Franklin.

With the many fine starters this season, Ike's thinclads will hopefully run away with all of the top honors.

Team Nets Honors

Eisenhower Eagle's tennis team participated in several meets. Although the team didn't win as a group, several individuals placed first and second in tournaments with other schools.

Last season, Kathy Belie netted one first and four seconds. Ann Taylor brought home one first and one second, while Deanna Elkins ran away with a first at the Boomer meet.

Under the new leadership of Coach Loudermilk, the tennis team showed great promise for seasons to come.

Another winning season was the goal of the Eisenhower golf team when they opened the season at their own tournament. The team was led by senior, Jeff Smith, and junior, Mark Watson. Lance Butemeyer, Mickey Botkin and Tommy Dickens were top contenders for high honors.

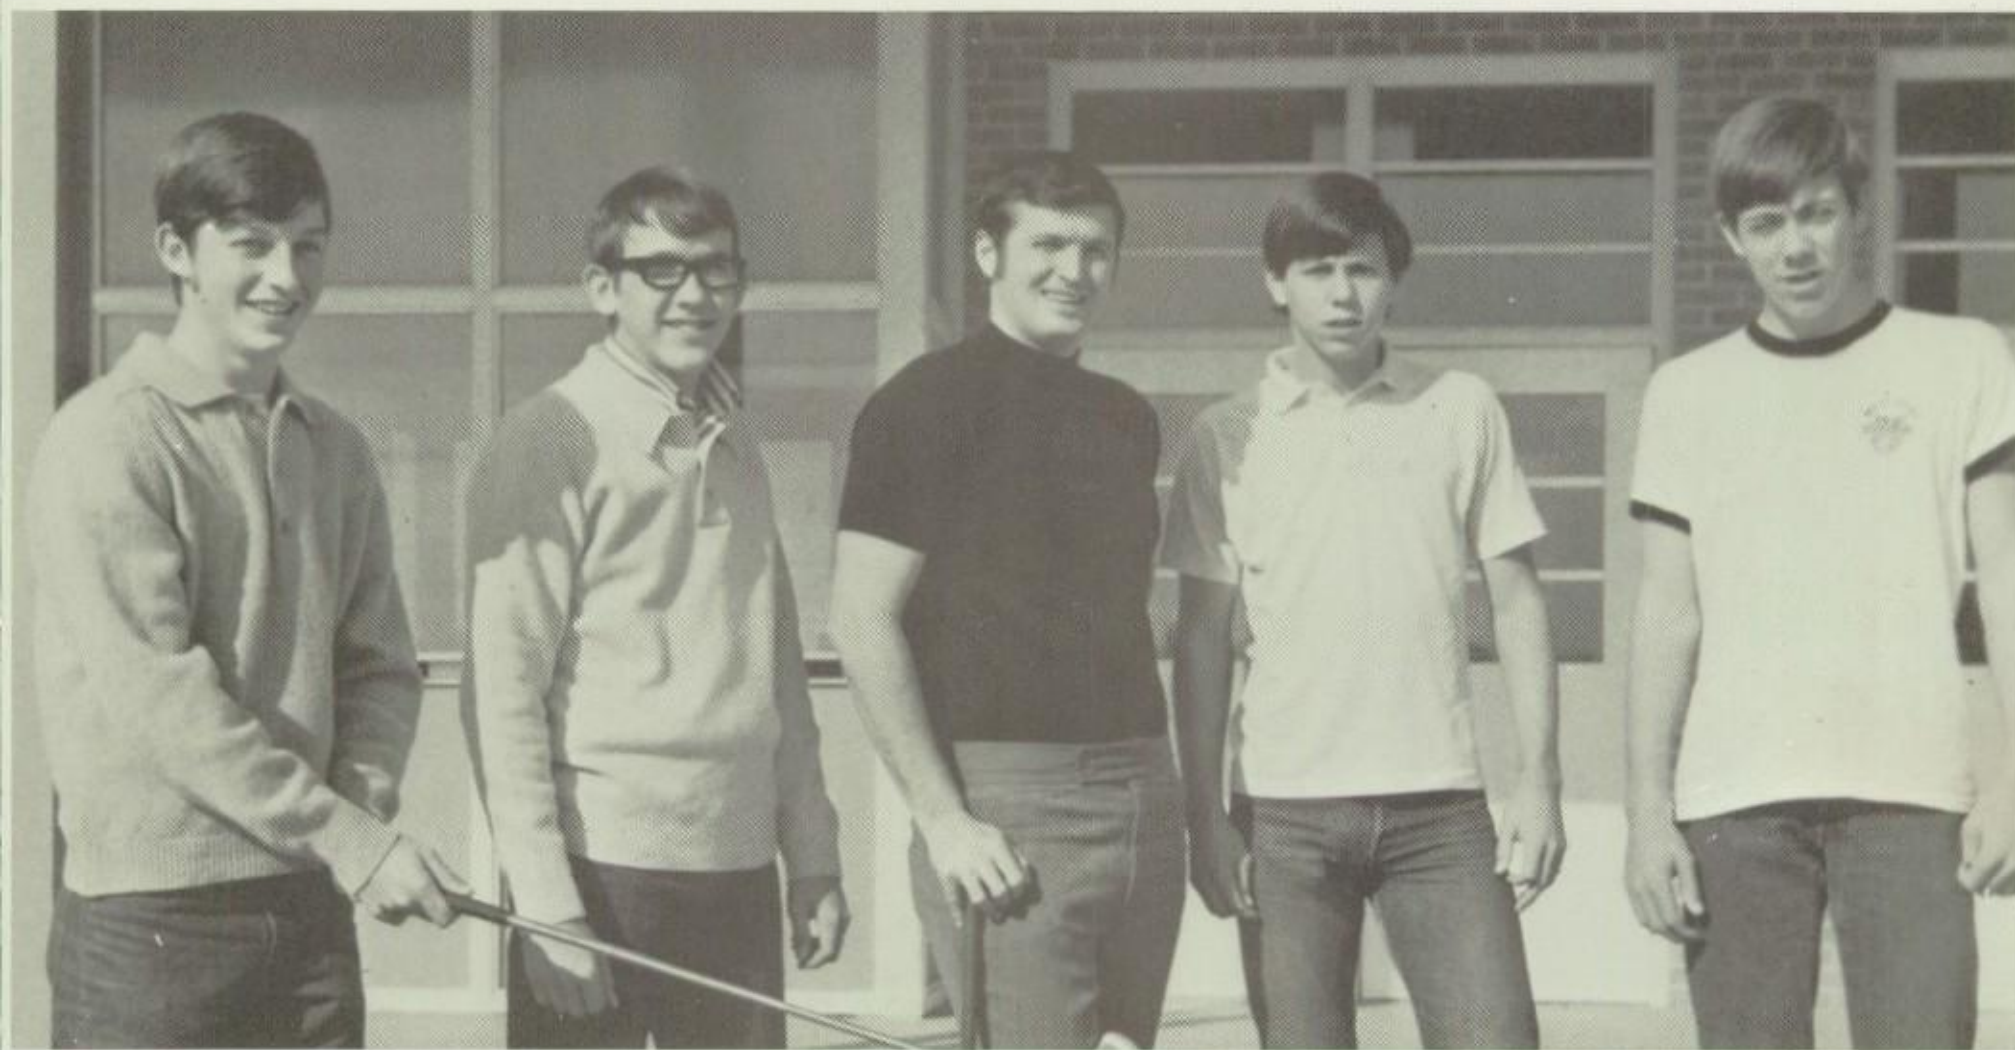

Eagles competed in numerous tournaments including Duncan, Norman, Altus, Boomer, Regionals, Lawton High and Frederick. Ike's golf team represented Eisenhower well and brought home many honors.

Academics

Each new day at Eisenhower was approached by our faculty and administration with vitality and a sense of objectivity. Ike's well-trained staff strove not only to help us with situations and problems we encountered during the year, but also to prepare us for those of the future. Constantly employing new methods and ideas, they played an important part in making the kind of school that has come to be known as "THE PRIDE OF LAWTON."

Managing school affairs and seeing that every section ran smoothly required many people. Everyone's job was important for the efficiency of the school regardless of whether he planned improvements for the school or prepared hot lunches.

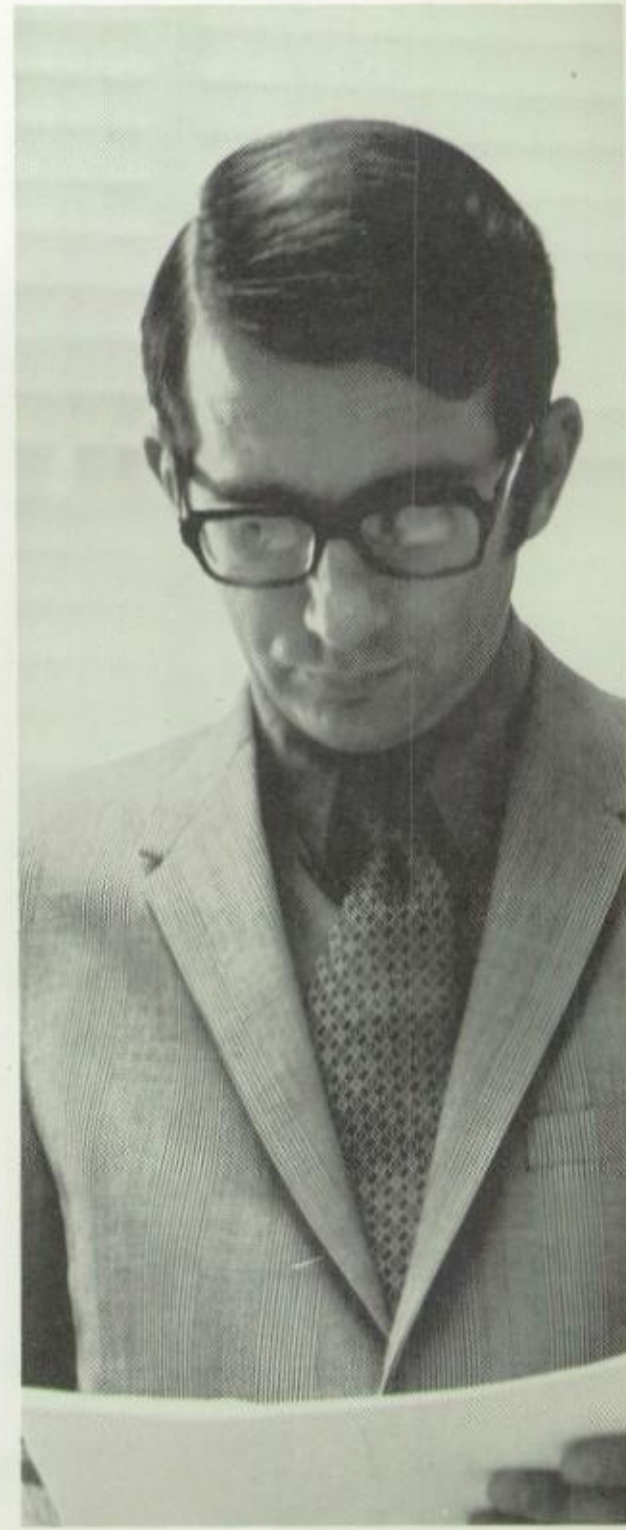

Board of Education

Keeping up with the rapidly growing number of students and ideas was an important goal of Lawton's Board of Education. Every school system needs qualified, imaginative, and progressive leaders. Lawton is fortunate to have the very best. Eisenhower salutes these very special men.

Principals

Highly Skilled Leaders Head Eisenhower

"The most important part of being on a school staff is contact with the students." With these words, Richard Neptune, principal, summed up his '70-'71 school policy. Providing the leadership which encouraged the staff, the community, and the students to strive toward the best school program possible, Mr. Neptune patiently carried Eisenhower through another successful school year.

Jerry Moon, assistant principal in charge of discipline and attendance, counseled all truant and delinquent students. "The most interesting part of my job was listening to excuses from truant students. However," he added, "The main purpose of my position was prevention of truancy problems."

Jim Miller, assistant principal in charge of activities and administration, balanced Eisenhower's budget, and managed the cooks, custodians, and secretaries. As activities director, Mr. Miller planned and coordinated school activities. He enjoyed his new job because it enabled him to "work in many areas of responsibility."

EHS owes a great deal to these highly skilled, imaginative men, who played a large part in making Ike "The Pride of Lawton."

Ike's versatile secretaries were an invaluable asset to our school. Their many duties included typing, mimeographing, filing, and keeping accurate reports of every school activity. Always helpful and smiling, they displayed typical Eisenhower spirit.

"What shall I major in?" and "Can I get out of that class?" were common questions thrown to Eisenhower's counseling staff every day. Howard Kuchta headed the staff dedicated to solving student problems.

Besides counseling, they found time to test students, help with enrollment, and sponsor various school clubs and activities.

Building Required Work

Few noticed the clean and orderly appearance of Ike this year. Credit for this pleasant atmosphere can be given to Ike's exceptionally fine staff of custodians. These fabled, behind-the-scenes men combined with our imaginative school cooks to keep Eisenhower neat and full of surprises.

Faculty, Curriculum

Ike's teachers constantly searched for new and exciting ways to present their lessons. Many even employed field trips in their year's activities. Keeping their patience and their humor, instructors attempted to relate their subjects to the students' present and future lives.

Business Courses Prove Essential

Students often wondered why they took typing as they made their forty-ninth mistake on a fifty-word timing. However, when teachers started doling out term paper assignments, they realized the importance of knowing how to type.

Ike's Business Department offered a wide range of courses, including everything from Business Law to Consumer Economics. Many of these are essential for anyone entering the business world. However, they are also practical for any student, no matter where his interests lie.

New Teachers Come to Fine Arts

Eisenhower's Fine Arts Department was fortunate to have received three new additions this year. In the Vocal Music Department, Howard Geis took control after Charles Mohr regretfully left. Miss Ginny Smith painted a new scene for the Art Department, and Drama happily received Chuck Lytle. Band was again instructed under the capable leadership of David Lucas.

Fine Arts is essential for the development of cultural tastes and talents, and Eisenhower's department was an art itself.

Teachers' Loads Are Lightened

Easing the teacher's job was the successful aim of the EHS material center and library.

A professional library exclusively for teachers was incorporated in Eisenhower's library system. Here teachers could research their subjects, preview films, and use typewriters at their convenience.

Ike's materials center was another teacher's helper. Preparing tapes, setting up audiovisual equipment, duplicating materials, and running off tests were just a few of the duties handled by the materials center.

These educational assets gave teachers more time to concentrate on immediate classroom problems.

Individual Rate Encouraged

Progressing at the speed at which one can be successful is the theory behind the English department divisions.

The sections were divided into Basic English, English II, American Literature, Western Literature, World Literature, and the latest addition, Dramatic Literature. This course is concerned exclusively with the study of plays and playwrights.

Perhaps the most innovative teaching method employed in classroom procedure is the rotating teacher system used in the basic sections. Every nine weeks, participating teachers take their units of study to a new class of students.

Programs as meticulously planned and carried out as these contribute to a successful English program.

History

New Techniques Round Out Courses

Eisenhower's history department strived to employ new techniques in the year's agenda. Using the past to complement the present, many history teachers broke the usual lesson monotony with group sessions to discuss current issues. A variety of topics, ranging from the Paleolithic Age to Viet Nam and the Far East struggles, rounded out the courses and provided valuable, far-reaching information for Ike's students.

Those who were under the misconception that math was a simple matter of addition, subtraction, and multiplication ran into a little trouble this year in the advanced courses offered here at Eisenhower. Many courses, ranging from Advanced Algebra and Analysis to Analytics, required many long hours of deep concentration.

Ike's mathematics department, however, does include many basic courses of study, such as Pre-Algebra, Algebra I, and Geometry.

Perplexing as it may seem to most, math can be a rewarding field to follow as a career.

Exploration Skills Stressed

Eisenhower's science department stressed exploration into the why's and how's of every question, whether a simple dissection or a complex chemistry equation.

Chemistry, Biology, Physiology, Physics, Psychology, and Geology were all related in that they were concerned with life and the things that are connected with it.

More advanced courses, such as Physics and Chemistry, required more time in the laboratory actually working out solutions with applied skills. This method proved itself a valuable asset in all areas that required disciplined reasoning ability.

ROTC ROTC is Number One

Although only three years old, Ike's ROTC was considered one of the best in the state. Classes were conducted in regular five hour divisions with segments on map reading, march instruction, the care and handling of fire arms, and related military education subjects.

To honor the Lawton Reserve Officers Training Corps divisions an ROTC day was celebrated. All three ROTC programs in Lawton met for a dinner, dance and reception February 26 to celebrate the programs' success.

Wilson Starts Gymnastic Program

Keeping physically fit is an essential part of every person's quest for complete self-satisfaction. Eisenhower's physical education department employed the use of gymnastics. They included uneven parallel bars, floor exercises, balancing, and vaulting. Much more than push-ups and jumping jacks, gymnastics is a complete educational experience in itself.

Another experience, equally as educational was the driver's education course. Obviously, its main objective was trying to teach the student to drive. Both of these departments were vitally important in rounding out a student's education.

People

People determine the quality of a school, and Eisenhower was fortunate in having a student body full of talent, enthusiasm, and spirit. Joined together by an eagerness to meet each new day, they gave Eisenhower its distinctive personality. Each class had its own individuality and uniqueness; yet each would have been incomplete without the other two. Through their actions and words, EHS students proved PRIDE IS IKE'S TRADITION.

Senior Senators Sandy Hulen, Mikel Jennings, Christine Hall, Bill McKesson, George McCarthy, Tracy Stein, and Max Cook express their opinion on local school issues.

Seniors Remember . . .

Eisenhower seniors will always remember '71 as the year of spirit and fun. Wherever there was a little harmless mischief, there was a senior. Senior spirit was reflected in everything from Pep Club to the wild, whacky, but successful school projects.

However, being a senior wasn't all spirit and fun. Seniors were avid participants in community projects, too. They helped to represent Ike's outstanding pride in a wide variety of contests and meetings with schools all over Oklahoma and Texas. Senior leadership in music, band, drama, sports, and student government contributed a great deal to Eisenhower's winning year.

College anticipation and studies also played a large part in many seniors' lives. But their work here at EHS taught them much more than just intellectual knowledge. It gave them an innate knowledge of life itself.

Senior Senator, Mikel Jennings types a report for the Student Senate.

Juniors Remember . . .

Juniors will always remember racing through the halls of Ike, especially when they ran right into Mr. Moon. It's been a long hard year for the juniors. Yet they've managed to survive with their everlasting wit and know-how. In this year of decision, the juniors have decided to wait until next year to decide. After all, next year is the year of superiority, leisure and glory for the seniors of '72. With a future like that to look forward to, being a junior isn't so bad after all.

Admiring another of the many EHS trophies are Mr. Neptune and the Sophomore Senators, Ann Fobes, Trish Parks, Eileen Ridgway, David Andrus, Robert Smith, Dana Burrows, and Ann Rogers.

Sophomores Remember . . .

Ike's youngest group will never forget that first day at Eisenhower Senior High. The only way to survive was to dig right in and come out fighting.

Sophomores wasted no time in getting to know Ike. After Senator elections, they began to feel right at home. The seniors tolerated them, and the juniors despised them, but nothing prevented the sophomores from building and maintaining a pride and spirit in Ike that lasted all year. Sophomores have formed the basis for an excellent class of '73.
